INTERESTING EVENTS.

The Santa Ana Wharf a Great Success.

TWO DAY'S HUNT IN THE VALLEY.

Charged With Embezzlement — A Bachelor's Ball—The Dog Pound Moved.

W. R. Coats, the sanitary engineer who has the contract for putting in the water works of Santa Ana, will leave next week in company with Colonel Edwards to attend the session of the Legislature and urge the early passage of a bill which will release the city from its present entanglement in reference to the water works. A private company is making an effort to obtain a franchise from Santa Ana for the purpose of constructing sewers, but it is exceedingly doubtful if such will be granted. The large McFadden wharf which has been in course of construction for several months past, was completed last week. It extends 1,200 feet into the open sea, and is sixty feet wide. It is a radical departure from the usually accepted method of building wharves, being built from a point of land projecting into the sea which, strange to say, is much less subject to rough seas than any other place along the beach. When it was first talked of, serious doubts were entertained as to success, but James McFadden, who is always one of the foremost men to risk his money in developing the industries of the valley, thought differently, and the result is that Santa Ana now has a wharf which, since the storm of last week, has been pronounced an unqualified success, and one at which the largest ocean steamers can safely land freight. Mr. Caskey has been appointed agent by the Steamship Company, and is now engaged in soliciting freight from the people of the valley. A number of Santa Ana's substantial business men are now building a broad gauge railroad from the city to the wharf, and as soon as it is completed the Steamship Company will commence running steamers every four days from San Francisco.

A. J. Howe, President of the Board of Trustees, and City Attorney Morgan have just returned from a holiday excursion to San Francisco, at the expense of the city, where they went to find a way out of the difficulty into which they have placed themselves and the city in regard to the water bonds; but they failed to meet with any success.

A Valley Hunt.

The Palmyra Hotel at Orange is to be the scene of great festivities during the coming week. The Valley Hunt Club will meet on the 9th, and will scour the country in search of the tuneful coyote and long-eared John rabbit. The previous performances of the club have insured its success, and on the coming hunt a large and fashionable attendance is expected, and as the arrangements are in the hands of Count Von Schmidt and the Hon J. de Barth Shorb, a good time may well be anticipated. The chase will extend over two days, and on the night of the 10th the festivities will be wound up in glorious style by a grand ball in the halls of the Palmyra.

The Bachelor's Ball.

Invitations are out for the Bachelor's Fancy Dress Ball, to be held in the Casino, Santa Monica, on Thursday, the 24th of January. It promises to be one of the most brilliant social affairs of the season, and in the selection of Mr. E. Canston for secretary of the arrangements a good stroke of work was done, for he is laboring entirely to satisfy everyone. The lady patronesses are Mrs. Arcadia B. de Baker, Mrs. Machell and Mrs. Waring, and the Bachelors' Committee consists of Messrs. E. Cawston, R. Lindsay, A. W. Peyton, E. W. Barry, E. Bowring, C. S. Campbell-Johnston, E. Gilliland, W. M. Hutchison, G. Finch-Hatton, J. Machell, R. W. Bettner, R. Peyton-Carter, A. Freeman and A. J. McKerrow.

The "Doggery" Moved.

The dog-pound on the river front has been removed to a point about 100 yards south of the Kuhrts street bridge, on the west side of the river. When the change was made some individual with a novel idea of amusement broke in one end of the doghouse, thereby setting at liberty fourteen canines, who took to

BOGUS NEWSPAPER MEN

How They Impose Upon the Public.

IMPOSTERS BECOMING NUMEROUS

They Interfere With the Legitimate Gathering of the News of the Day.

A little incident which took place a few days ago and was chronicled in the HERALD this last week, created no little amusement among the newspaper fraternity at the time, and is well worth being used now to point a moral for the general public. The keeper of a well-known and popular place of resort, desirous of showing his gratitude to the newspapers from which he had received a number of favorable notices, determined to give a little banquet to the "members of the press." To arrange the ceremony and distribute the invitations he picked out an alleged newspaper man who has no standing whatever in any office in the city. Two invitations happened to find their way into the hands of men connected with the papers, but they, understanding the situation, declined to attend. The banquet came and went, but the real newspaper men of the city never heard of it until a week or two later. Of course no notice of the affair appeared in the papers, and there was probably not a man present who could by any kind of stratagem get matter into print in a reputable newspaper.

The newspaper men of the city were not inclined to waste many tears over the affair, but on the contrary looked upon it as a first-class joke. At this particular time of the year, when business is active and news lively, men who earn their living by regular seven-days-in-the-week newspaper work have very little time to be running around after banquets or any other kind of amusement which comes in the evening. The moral of the situation, however, is to be found in the attention which it calls to a certain peculiar class of men who are the very bane of the real newspaper worker's existence—the bogus "journalists."

Every profession has its imitators, but it is questionable whether any is more tormented with humbugs than the newspaper line. It is popularly supposed to be to a man's advantage in a variety of ways to be connected with a newspaper. Free tickets to places of amusement, passes for railroad travel, admission to all sorts of places where the general public is shut out and favors of various sorts in all lines of business. These are generally supposed to come unsolicited to the man who does newspaper work. Much of this is theory, but there is a sufficient basis of fact to make it well worth while for the individual who has cheek enough to carry out the role to pass himself off for a newspaper man. And there is no risk whatever connected with the effort. The man who calls himself a doctor and experiments on a human anatomy takes a good many chances; the humbug lawyer will soon be found out; but the bogus journalist appears to be able to work his little scheme right along, and it will be suspected by no one except those regularly connected with the papers.

At the present time there are between thirty and thirty-five men who do all the work, editorial and repertorial, on the daily journals of this city. There are half as many more who are connected with the business offices, who occasionally do local work. Every paper has a small contingent force of two or three men who are put on when business is very lively, and laid off when it is dull. In every city there must be a few regular newspaper men out of work and these are of that class. There is probably not a single experienced newspaper man who reads this article that cannot name over a dozen men who are constantly passing themselves off as being connected with one paper or another, who know absolutely nothing about the business and could not obtain work in any office at any price. It is a question whether the humbugs do not far outnumber the real article at the present time in Los Angeles. The man who got up the "press" banquet had no difficulty in finding plenty of material of his own peculiar sort to grace the boards.

The existence of this parasite class may or may not be a matter of interest to the public, but to the newspaper man himself it carries with it a host of inconveniences. Being more numerous than the regular reporters, the humbugs are more ubiquitous. They manage to be on hand whenever a fight or an accident or any kind of exciting circumstance takes place, and push their way in, using the name of some paper as a pass-word. When the rightful claimant to the information gets along he finds it difficult to work over an exhausted claim. He is very likely, moreover, if assured that some one representing his own paper has already looked up the facts in the affair, to assume that some other member of the force has happened along instead of him and obtained all that is needed. Thus he misses his chance. The average reporter, however, is on the watch for his impersonators, and does not get caught in that way many times.

In the matter of the securing of favors which are supposed to come to newspaper men to compensate in a measure for the many disagreeable features of their line of work, the humbug reporter is, to a considerable extent, shut off by the systematic arrangement which at present prevails. The time was when a man who had impudence enough could get into a theater or place of public amusement on the strength of an alleged connection with a newspaper, but at present, although the experiment is often tried, it nearly always results in failure. Within a short time this paper has been importuned to pay for the livery expenses of an individual named Phil Hastings, who hires buggies and coolly charges it up "to the HERALD." Of course the dealer, who gives privileges to any man on the statement that he is connected with a newspaper, takes his chances.

But the most exasperating feature of the whole arrangement is the discredit which men of this class succeed in bringing upon the unlucky individual to whom newspaper work is a commonplace matter of bread and butter. In spite of the disparaging way in which he often speaks of his fellow workers, as a general rule it is true that the newspaper man is a moderately respectable sort of a fellow. It is a part of his business to be persistent when in search of information, but he is not offensive. Neither does the experienced workman wear the fact of his being a reporter written all over him. He doesn't demand privileges for himself except those that are needed in the transaction of his business. At least, the ideal professional reporter does not, the actual half-way amateur frequently does. But his imitator, the alleged "journalist," who pushes himself in the way of the regular workman at every turn, does all these things and a great many more. He is the man who threatens to "burn up" people and to get even with them for slights put upon his journal through him. He is the one who always pushes in when he is not wanted and who does a great deal of talking when he gets there. It is quite time the public knew him and had him spotted for future reference.

THE TOURISTS.

A Number of the Parties to Arrive This Week.

The first week of the new year will be marked by the arrival of a goodly number of tourists in Los Angeles, although the climax of the excursion business this season is by no means reached, for the Eastern agents report that the bulk of the travel will not be on the road before the end of January. Inquiries yesterday at the offices in this city disclosed that the following parties are due here within the next six days:

A Warner Bros'. excursion of seven carloads or about 260 people coming over the Santa Fe from Chicago, Kansas City and interior points to arrive on Tuesday.

A Walters' excursion of three carloads over the Chicago and Alton road to arrive on Tuesday. The tourists are traveling in the new luxurious cars recently built for the California business.

A. Harvey & Co.'s excursion from Boston, to arrive on Thursday.

A party recruited in Boston by the California Excursion Company, to arrive on Wednesday.

A party sent out from Boston by the Western Excursion Company, to arrive on Thursday.

A party equipped in Boston by J. J. Munroe, to arrive on Wednesday.

An Illinois Central excursion from Chicago, coming via New Orleans, to arrive on Tuesday.

A Union Pacific excursion from Chicago and Omaha, to arrive on Monday.

A Burlington excursion from Chicago and interior points, to arrive on Tuesday.

On Monday next another Raymond & Whitcomb excursion, traveling in a special vestibuled train, will leave Boston, and will deposit its tourists here on January 22nd.

OUTWARD BOUND.

A Sunset excursion left the city last night for the East under the direction of Mr. H. Steere, of the Southern Pacific's establishment here.

On Tuesday evening a Walker's excursion, in charge of Conductor Rennie, will leave in the new tourist cars.

The Union Pacific will send out one of its popular parties on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday night two parties will leave the city, one recruited by the vigilant Mr. J. B. Quigley, of the great Burlington system, and the other in charge of Messrs. Warner Bros., the hard-working canvassers for business over the Santa Fe.

THE B. OF R. C.

About 300 Names Already On the Roll.

The new organization known as the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, which first saw the light in this city on November 15th, promises to be a great success. Already 300 of the conductors of California have joined its ranks, and the roll is being increased daily. Under the direction of Chief Conductor Mohler the new body is extending its operations in every direction, and has just successfully organized a lodge at Oakland. A circular has been sent to every member of the Order of Railroad Conductors west of the Missouri river, in which a strong bid is made for new members for the Brotherhood. In one of its sections the circular says: "The present status of the Order of Railroad Conductors is wholly inadequate to meet the requirements of organized labor, and in promoting that harmony which should exist between railroad conductors and other labor organizations of railroad employes, especially the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The new order, whose object is to promote and protect the interests of railroad conductors generally, is therefore recommended for earnest and hearty concurrence and support."

Important Announcement.

We are pleased to inform the people of Los Angeles and vicinity that Messrs. J. Weinman & Co., 88 and 90 Walker street, New York, and owners of the Plunder Store, No. 19 North Main street, have concluded to greatly enlarge their present quarters and add several large departments in connection with their stock of clothing, &c. As they manufacture mostly all their own goods, they are in a position to sell everything at prices other dealers pay for their goods, thus saving the consumer 25 to 50 per cent. on each article purchased.

That they have done an extensive trade since they started is well known, but expect still better results for the future. Messrs. Weinman & Co. also expect at a very early date to open a wholesale house in this city to supply country dealers.

LUCKY AT LAST.

The Turn of the Tide in A. W. Adams' Luckless Life.

The Grand prize in the Louisiana State Lottery, one-twentieth of which, amounting to $15,000, was won in this city, could hardly have fallen to a more deserving man than A. W. Adams of 915 Guerrero street. There is but little romance in the story of the winner's life; in fact, according to himself, he has never had any luck before. Working as a carpenter, he has earned about enough to keep himself in comfort, hardly ever expecting to share the luxuries so freely distributed to some. Still, as he said to a reporter, ever since he was a child he has had a sort of vague presentiment that before he was 50 years old he would have a streak of luck, and now when within a few days of completing his forty-seventh year he has suddenly sprung, thanks to the Louisiana State Lottery, from moderate comfort to complete ease.

On Tuesday, November 15th, he had returned from his work and was reading the paper when his landlady told him that the "ticket man" was at the door. The "ticket man" was called in, and asked Mr. Adams to produce his tickets, which he did. There on the top lay No. 56,621. When told that the ticket had drawn $15,000 the good man was dumbfounded for the moment, and then felt a joyfulness and youth he had not experienced in years. To make a beeline for the office where the ticket was originally bought, and seek confirmation of the news was the work of a few moments. There they telegraphed to New Orleans for a confirmation of the number, and yesterday the money was paid over to lucky Mr. Adams. There is another lucky person, however, who will help invest the money, as it is whispered that the landlady will very soon be Mrs. A. W. Adams.—San Francisco (Cal.) Chronicle, Nov. 24.

A REMARKABLE CURE
—BY—
Haemony, the King of Herbs.

LOS ANGELES, December 4, 1888
C. H. Webb, Esq., 210 East First Street, Los Angeles, Cal;

DEAR SIR—I wish, for the benefit of sufferers with Rheumatism or Stomach troubles, to subscribe the following. It has been my misfortune to be a sufferer with Rheumatism at different periods of my life. Two attacks lasting nearly two years each.

About four months ago I was prostrated with an aggravated case of Inflammatory Rheumatism in my knees, hands, wrists, etc. Also had Sciatica in my right thigh and some pains in my back. After seven weeks in bed, with a prospect of as many months before me, a friend recommended Haemony. I procured a bottle, and after taking six teaspoonsful, or six doses, in three days, I was able to go down town on a pair of crutches. In a week's time the crutches were put aside, and to-day I am enjoying my usual good health, with no pains or soreness.

I have suffered for years with Dyspepsia, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, etc., and to my surprise and delight, after four bottles of Haemony I am entirely cured, and can eat as healthy as when a child, and am not distressed thereby. I cannot say too much for Haemony.

Very truly yours,
E. B. BUCHER,

THE ECLIPSE.

It Brings Many Astronomers to California.

THE VALUE OF OBSERVATIONS.

What the Scientists Expect to Do To-Morrow—"The Planet of Romance."

To-morrow there will be a total eclipse of the sun in the northern part of the State. A total eclipse of the sun is always a most interesting phenomenon, even to the unscientific mind. But to the scientist it is a momentous and important event, as such an eclipse affords opportunity for studying terrestrial phenomena and deciding cosmic problems of the most vital importance not otherwise possible. Therefore, as the time for an eclipse approaches, the entire astronomical world is agog with interest and the most elaborate and exhaustive preparations are made for observing and profiting by the event. Parties of distinguished astronomers from all parts of the world are already at the favorable points for taking observations. The eclipse is of special interest and importance to astronomers, owing to the very marked improvement in certain astronomical instruments during the past few years. Nearly all the European governments including Russia made appropriations for sending parties to this State to observe the eclipse; but the United States made no such provision, and but for the public spirit of the citizens of a few cities in this country, America would have no representatives in the field. Willows, San Jose county, will be the point of observation for several parties, and others have established themselves at points not far distant.

There are two great problems which, it is hoped, will be solved by observations taken during this eclipse: 1st. The physical problem of the corona, what composes it and how it is held in space about the sun; and, 2nd, the geometrical problem of the moon's contacts with the sun. These, very briefly stated, are the principal problems which observers will attempt to solve at this eclipse, and they include innumerable problems of minor importance.

About the dark body of the moon, which entirely covers the sun's surface, is seen a halo of filmy light, growing denser and brighter as the sun's disc is approached, and with two or more long streamers of light, not unlike the tail of a comet, extending off into space. This is technically known as the corona, and its composition and the force which propels it into and holds it out in space are among the most important and interesting questions now engaging the attention of astronomers. There are three theories regarding the corona, as follows: First, that it is composed of cosmical dust held in suspension in space by electrical repulsion. Second, that it is composed of meteoric matter, revolving around the sun; and, third, that it is composed partly of gases and partly of finely divided matter thrown up by terrific storms.

THE CORONA.

The latter theory is generally accepted by the best authorities as the most probable, though neither of them is authenticated. There is a mysterious connection between the earth and the corona, whose nature, extent and force are very imperfectly understood. It is believed to influence the earth's motion and also to have some connection with the aurora borealis. The discovery of the nature of the elements composing the corona and the force which controls it, will eventually decide these questions, together with many more.

The observation of contacts, i. e., the exact instant when the edge of the moon touches the edge of the sun in approaching, and the exact time when the moon clears the disc of that body in leaving, will enable astronomers to calculate the precise moment when a straight line would pass through the centre of the sun, moon and earth. This knowledge is of the utmost importance, as it enters into almost every cosmical problem. It has been known for some time that the earth's day is slowly —very slowly lengthening—at the rate of about two seconds in a century. By observing the contacts of the sun and moon, this problem can be definitely solved, and the exact rate at which we are gaining time can be determined. The lengthening of the earth's day is caused by the action of the tides. The earth revolves from west to east, and the tides move from east to west twice each day. The movement of this immense body of water in a direction opposite to that of the earth acts like a friction brake and is slowly checking the earth's speed around its axis. It will be something like a million years, however, before it will be necessary to add another hour to clock dials.

THE PLANET VULCAN.

One of the most interesting and not the least important features of the eclipse will be the search for the intermercurial planet, Vulcan. The existence of this planet is a mooted question among astronomers.

About 100 years ago some obscure observer agitated the astronomical world with the statement that he had discovered a new planet much nearer the sun than Mercury, and considerably smaller than any of the other planets in the system. La Verrier, a French astronomer, first brought the mysterious planet into prominence about forty years ago, and long before that it was christened Vulcan. It is a noteworthy fact, however, that no experienced observer ever claimed to have seen the new planet until a few years ago. During the total eclipse of 1898 the distinguished astronomer, Professor Watson, of Ann Arbor University, devoted his entire attention to a search for Vulcan. The difficulty is that the planet, if it exists, is so small that it would readily be confounded with a star. Also, owing to its position on the solar system, it sets almost simultaneously with the sun and rises about daylight. Therefore the only time that it could be seen would be an eclipse of the sun. Professor Watson prepared himself for the search by studying the heavens in the vicinity of the sun for weeks before the eclipse and thoroughly familiarizing himself with the appearance and position of every star in that quarter. At the time of the eclipse he saw a strange body which he believed to be the mysterious planet in close vicinity to the sun. Prof. Watson is now dead, and cannot take part in the search for Vulcan to-morrow, but the fact that so distinguished an observer believed he had seen the planet at last has greatly strengthened the belief in its existence, and on this occasion there will be a very general and careful search for Vulcan. Owing to the mystery and uncertainty which have attached to the planet for more than a hundred years, it has been called "The Planet of Romance." There are certain reasons for believing in its existence. In the movements of Mercury indications have been perceptible of an influence that could be accounted for by the supposition of an interior planet. It is therefore hoped that the observers tomorrow may set the question of the existence of this planet at rest.

Depot Jottings.

It is estimated that the railroads of the United States employ 785,000 people.

During the past year the Baldwin Works have constructed 736 new locomotives.

The clerical forces of the railroads in this city are hard at work making up the annual returns.

Mr. J. T. Ripley succeeds Mr. E. D. Moore as chairman of the Western Classification Committee.

Mr. F. W. Thompson, the Rock Island's representative here, will return from San Francisco to-morrow.

During the month of November there were 145 train accidents, in which 38 persons were killed and 179 injured.

The "Haddon Hall," a barque with 2,200 tons of English coal for the Southern Pacific, arrived at San Pedro yesterday.

The order for 17,000 tons of rails for the Union Pacific has been transferred from the North Chicago Mills to the Carnegie Works.

The position of roadmaster of the Chicago Central, which Mr. T. M. Sheridan resigned some time ago, has been filled by Mr. J. E. McNeil.

Mr. H. Davenport, the Santa Fe's agent at San Diego, who has been doing some business in this city, left for his headquarters yesterday.

Mr. J. W. Adams is going to place one of the Chicago and Alton's new tourist chairs on exhibition in the window of his office on Spring street.

It is stated that next year the Rock Island road will build the Omaha to a connection with the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska line at Fairburg, Neb.

The earnings of the Atlantic and Pacific for the month of November amounted to $303,469, an increase of $67,988 over the corresponding period last year.

The Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska road has nominated Mr. T. W. Thompson, the Rock Island's representative in Los Angeles, its Traveling Passenger Agent.

The Burlington has introduced on its Missouri River and Denver Short Line a complete equipment of sleeping and dining cars, affording through service between St. Louis and the Missouri River and Denver.

A preliminary survey has been made for a road to leave the Southern Pacific at Adonde, Ariz., about thirty miles east of Yuma, and pass up the Gila river to Texas Hill. From there the survey is to be continued into Phœnix.

Mr. S. W. Eccles, who was recently appointed Coast Passenger Agent for the Union Pacific, will be in Los Angeles on January 8th. He is coming from the City of Mexico, where he has been representing the International Railroad.

A trainload of seventeen cars of cattle from Arizona arrived in the city yesterday morning and were sent out to the Santous spur on the Santa Monica branch. A car for the Dodsworth switch (Vail & Co.'s) near Florence was also transferred.

It is rumored that the Burlington road is endeavoring to obtain possession of the Kansas City, Wyandotte and Northwestern road with the object of extending it to a connection with the main line at Nebraska. This would shorten the Burlington & Missouri's lines from Kansas City to Denver.

Removal.

The Los Angeles Business College and English Training School will remove January 3d to its commodious new quarters, 38, 40 and 42 South Main street, near Second.

The winter term will begin January 7th, both day and evening sessions. D. B. Williams, Principal.

The New Year's "Herald."

THE NEW YEAR'S HERALD will be one of the most interesting publications ever issued in Southern California. We shall print a mammoth edition of that number, and have already received extensive orders for copies from the East.

In addition to the presentation of the yearly statistics of the county and the section, it will contain a great mass of carefully prepared matter upon the resources, attractions, advantages and possibilities of our county. It will show where lands can be had for all prices, from the lowest to the highest. It will illustrate the capacity and value of our soil by showing what has been and what is being done. No subject of interest to the Easterner who is looking for a home will be omitted.

THE NEW YEAR'S HERALD will be extensively read everywhere, and will exercise decisive influence upon persons abroad who think of coming to California in choosing this section to settle in. We are taking especial pains to make this issue complete in every detail relating to the advantages which this county offers to the newcomer. This is in line with the good and effective work the HERALD has done continuously for fifteen years. It has always taken a hopeful and optimistic view of Los Angeles and Southern California. Even in times of the greatest depression, the HERALD has insisted that a county so richly gifted as ours—with an incomparable soil and a delicious climate—with mountains of unapproachable grandeur, valleys of matchless fertility, and scenery such as is unsurpassed for its beauty and picturesqueness—we always insisted that such advantages would in the end make our county and section the Mecca of the world's health-seekers and the goal of all who desired to live in a soft and salubrious climate, where the minimum of labor would secure the maximum of results. Our prophecy has been fulfilled. The past six years have witnessed a wonderful change not only in Los Angeles, but in every city in Southern California. People are flocking here from all parts of the Union and Europe. From a village our city has grown into metropolitan proportions, and the population of our whole section has decupled in the past few years.

This movement must be kept up. We have room here for millions of industrious and energetic people. Our lands will support them in princely style, and our possibilities in commercial and industrial development are unlimited.

The HERALD continues the good work it began in 1874, and will continue it to the end.

IT IS a standing source of wonder to the HERALD that no energetic effort, backed by adequate capital, has been made to develop natural gas in Los Angeles. One of the veteran Pennsylvania oil men assured citizens of this county not long ago that this valuable fuel existed here in great quantities, and that all that was needed to secure it in large volume was to bore to the proper depth. There are several points within the city limits where oil escapes to the surface. An old-time amusement was for the boys to ignite this gas which escapes in quantities out Temple street and on the Cahuenga road which skirts the hills. The indications at a dozen places in Los Angeles are quite as good as they were at East Liverpool, Ohio, where natural gas was first applied for the purposes of fuel and illumination.

THE long existing disputes between the Southern Pacific Railway and the State of California seem to have been adjusted at last. Col. Charles F. Crocker, in a recent interview published in a San Francisco newspaper, has avowed it to be the purpose of his company to obey the laws, although he holds that resistance to unjust exactions of the tax gatherer or orders of the Railway Commissioners is one of the reserved rights of the corporation with which he is connected. It is pleasant to know that a long standing source of agitation has at length been removed.

IN the campaign of 1884 the vote for St. John, Prohibition candidate for the Presidency, was 2,960 in the State of California, and 157,838 in all the States. Last November Fisk received 6,447 votes in this State and 257,488 in all the States. In Los Angeles county the St. John vote was 343, and the Fisk vote 1,294. The cold-water vote is a power in politics, and for any public candidate less pronounced in his temperance views and practices than Harrison it will his quietus make with a bit of paper.

The Bewildered and Bedeviled Taxpayer.

Just about this time the fact is borne very cogently into the minds of Angeleños that they are paying out a great deal of money in the shape of taxes. They are not only doing it now, but they have been doing it for years. And yet there seems to be very little to show for this great expenditure. What becomes of the really royal sums raised in the way of revenue is a mystery which has not yet been solved. It certainly does not go into roads. Go where one will and the thoroughfares are simply execrable. Taking, for example, the old Mission San Gabriel road, leading past the County Hospital, and it is an exact reproduction of the "great Serbonian bog, betwixt Damietta and Mt. Cassius old, where armies whole have sunk," of Milton's verse. Wherever the adobe soil is struck the result is always the same, go where one will. Where the natural roadways are good—that is to say, wherever one strikes a sandy soil—it is possible to make headway, and often indeed to find good roadways, but the moment the soil ceases to be porous the difficulties are greater than they were ten years ago. Road-making in Los Angeles county seems to have resolved itself into scraping the dry dust into beveled heaps in mid-summer, to see it resolved into quagmires during the winter rains. For years the HERALD has been clamoring for the creation of a number of great boulevards, which could be made at comparatively small expense. It is simply a marvel that at least two of them have not been already created—one from Los Angeles to the San Gabriel Valley and another from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, and yet we seem further from these great desiderata than ever. The road to neither is not half as good as it was ten years ago. The same may be said, with truth, of the roads leading to Downey, to Wilmington, to the Cahuenga. They are less than nature made them, because originally there was a hard pan, which, under our present intelligent (?) system, has been ploughed up. Allowing for the large portion of the county levies which has been sent to Sacramento as the Los Angeles contribution to the State taxes, there is something inexplicable in all this. We have frequently asked for an explanation of the anomaly and have failed to receive it. We shall enter into inquiries on our own account, and shall present them to our readers.

The case with the city is quite as bad. The large taxes of the county are duplicated in the city, and the results as to our streets are quite as inexplicable. Never did a municipality show less for its liberal returns to the taxgatherer than this. Outside of a few thoroughfares, the condition of the streets is deplorable. Within half a block of the Plaza it is scarcely possible to make progress with a vehicle. First street, Buena Vista street, and a hundred others, are shameful examples of how not to do the work of properly providing for the convenience and comfort of the citizen and of the stranger within our gates.

Meanwhile, the fact is notorious that money without stint has been raised for the purpose of giving us streets and other municipal easements. Where has it gone to in the past? Where does it go now?

But in the city and county of Los Angeles the taxpayers have been trusting to the happy-go-lucky way of managing things. They have contented themselves with paying their taxes, and taking it for granted that their money would be rightly expended. Very few of them ever care to see how the work which is now being done on our streets corresponds to the work nominated in the bonds of the contractors. As a result, even on those thoroughfares which have been newly paved, signs of dilapidation are everywhere manifest.

To cap the climax of the absurdities and inconveniences of which the taxpayers are the victims, streets are continually being torn up after having been paved, to admit of gas and water service, and this work is often done unsatisfactorily and at the caprice of irresponsible agents.

The taxpayers of both city and county would do well to take stock of their affairs. That they are being trifled with if not robbed is apparent to the most casual observer. The more intelligent of them echo the refrain: "How long, oh Lord, how long?"

The New Year's Solar Eclipse.

To-morrow there will be a total eclipse of the sun. The centre of its totality on this coast will run through a line drawn from Point Arena, on the Northern California coast to Winnemucca in Nevada. The belt of totality will extend for a width of seventy-five miles. Professor George Davidson, who is running the Geodetic survey on this coast, and whose camp is now located at Buena Park, near Anaheim, has furnished the Anaheim Gazette with very elaborate and interesting data of the phenomena, from which we make the following excerpt:

The beginning of the eclipse, in Pacific standard time, occurs at 0h. 34m. 20s. P. M., January 1, 1889. The point of first contact is 273 degrees 40 minutes from the north point of the sun's limb counted round by the east. The time of the greatest obscuration is 1h. 56m. P. M., when 10.05 digits will be obscured. The ending of the eclipse occurs at 3h. 17m. 16s., and the point of latest contact is 75 degrees 46 seconds from the north point of the sun counted round by the east. For the astronomical station of the Coast Survey named Buena Vista (1870) in Los Angeles (now occupied by the High School), the phases will occur almost exactly one minute earlier than the above times, and the points of contact will be but slightly different. For Anaheim and the adjacent towns the phases will occur about twenty seconds later than the above times; and the points of contact will be nearly the same.

The reference to the High School in the above is to the point where the new Court House is being built. Professor Davidson's station was on that hill in 1870, and subsequently, viz. in 1872-3, the High School building was erected there. It was removed to San Pedro street three years ago.

There is a great deal of interest taken in the northern part of the State in this eclipse. A corps of volunteer amateur photographers has been organized in San Francisco to take observations at Cloverdale, Mount St. Helena and points in Colusa county. At the Willows in that county the eclipse will be total; and American observatories will be well represented at the best points. Of course, Los Angeles is far out of the line of obscuration, but we may look for disturbing effects in the sun's rays about the time of the eclipse. Whether these phases will be of any scientific interest is doubtful. There are so many points in the line of the eclipse's totality from which observations may be made that we are certain that very satisfactory and interesting data will be obtained with reference to the corona, which is just now the special object of study by physical astronomers. Professor Davidson, in his letter to the Gazette, says that the total solar eclipse is the "crowning glory of the heavens. All other celestial phenomena pale before its awe-inspiring majesty. It is the most marvelous of all splendors and the most unexpected in its suggestiveness. It opens a living field of thought and reflection to the lover of nature, the specialist, the artist, the writer, the orator and especially to the teacher and the preacher. It startles even old observers with an almost tangible realization of beauties and powers that are really at such incomprehensible distances."

THE California Board of State Forestry has received donations of land in nearly all parts of the State for experimental forest purposes. The Head Forester says that he has now $9,000 worth of rare and valuable seedling forest trees raised at the chief experimental station and ready for planting. The Board is desirous that the Legislature should make a sufficient appropriation to enable it to hold the lands that have been donated for experimental stations, and also to utilize the trees they have already raised. Forest tree culture in a State like California is a matter of the first importance. Through the laxity of the Federal land laws and the rapacity of some of our people, the process of forest denudation has been carried on to a very hurtful extent. If through the experiments of the Forestry Commissioners we should succeed in repairing the waste and in laying out new forests that would thrive, the value of the work would be simply incomputable.

HON. TIMOTHY GUY PHELPS has announced it to be his purpose to contest the seat of Hon. Thomas J. Clunie in the fifty-first Congress. Even Republicans admit that it would be a calamity to replace the young, energetic and able Clunie by a fossil like Timothy Guy. The latter has been forced into the contest by the Republican State Central Committee and the Republican press against his own convictions. Republican "spotters" during the late O'Donnell recount, claim to have discovered enough of Phelps's votes which were counted for Clunie to more than counterbalance Clunie's majority of fifty-one. On the other hand, Gen. Clunie's "spotters" give a diametrically opposite report. The exact facts will soon be known.

M. COQUELIN and Mme. Hading will pass through this city to-morrow evening, on their way to Mexico, after a splendid season at the Baldwin in San Francisco. These two artists are at the head of the French stage. They have drawn immense houses in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, and have given our people a correct idea of the perfection to which the art dramatic has reached in Paris. With two fine theatres here, and hundreds of people anxious to witness the finished performances of these eminent representatives of the French stage, it is greatly to be regretted that our local impresario has not been able to effect an engagement with them.

AMONGST the matters of general concern that will come before the Council to-day for action is the renewal of the electric light contract. We would remind the Council of the fact that in the past the company has been very exact in its construction of the exemption of moonlight nights from service. If the almanac said moonshine, that was enough. There would be no electric light, though in fact the fog or murkiness of the atmosphere might have made the night as dark as Erebus. We want no more contracts based on the assertions of the almanac. When the moon fails to perform her duty, we want the electric lights to fill her place.

A LARGE portion of the immigration and tourist travel this year is finding its way into the northern and central counties. San Francisco is fuller of people this year than it has been in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The same thing is measurably true of Oakland, San Jose, Sacramento and other well-known points in the northern part of the State. This is all as it should be. The people from the East are being entertained in trust for us. The first genuine cold spell which occurs up there will send them down to Southern California in search of semi-tropic heat and comfort.

ONE of the best known and most reliable real estate men of Los Angeles informs the HERALD that heavy capitalists of San Francisco stand ready to invest very large sums of money in Los Angeles real estate at existing rates of interest. Quite a number of Eastern capitalists have also lately entered the local market as lenders. These facts, in conjunction with the circumstance that the large sums collected for taxes must soon be again placed in circulation, indicate that money will be much easier hereabouts in a few weeks.

It is doubtless a knowledge of the fact that everyone can see through it that causes the window pane.—[Life.

GENERAL TOPICS.

Mrs. Parsons Speaks in Spite of the Police.

HER TEN MINUTES' SPEECH.

A Discourse on the Quick and the Dead—New Year's at Indianapolis.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CHICAGO, December 30.—Anarchist Parsons' dark-skinned widow to-day made good her boast that she would speak in Chicago in spite of the police. It was in Waverly Hall, one square from Mayor Roche's office, and is the same place which was closed against her a week ago. Four hundred people were crowded into the poky little auditorium, and many others choked up the entrance and stood upon the stairs. The meeting was one called by the Socialistic labor party "to transact business and for the promotion of Socialistic doctrines." The proceedings opened with the introduction of a resolution condemning the police for their recent "lawless" interference with public meetings. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Tommy" Morgan, a Socialist, was the first speaker. He said the employment of force by workingmen was futile. It appealed to the lowest instincts of mankind and was wrong from a moral, intellectual and practical standpoint. Its impracticability had been demonstrated in this city by the Haymarket affair and its results. The hanged Anarchists were proof enough that force was impracticable. The meeting was then opened to any one who wanted to talk ten minutes.

MRS. PARSONS ROSE.

The crowd cheered when it saw her familiar face. "I should like very much some of these days to answer the assertions Mr. Morgan has made against those who are dead," said she, "but the ukase has gone forth from Roche and Lord Bonfield that I am never to make another speech in Chicago, and that I am to be forever deprived of that liberty under the Constitution. But I cannot sit here quietly and hear it said that those who are dead and silent in their tombs, had anything to do with the throwing of the Haymarket bombs, though in the war against tyrants all things are justifiable. Those who say anything else are cursed. They were miserable curs who on last Sunday night allowed themselves to be driven away from this hall by the police." MRS. Parsons then read what purported to be an extract from

A SPEECH OF THOMAS JEFFERSON, in which occurred these words: "God forbid that any country should be for twenty years without a rebellion."

"Did Parsons or Spies ever utter anything more revolutionary than that?" said Mrs Parsons. "It has been said that dead martyrs are no good, but their memory is dear to us and a perpetual inspiration, because they died before they would ask pardon for deeds they did not do. When Liberty shall be crowned with immortality the brightest names in her crown will be those of Parsons, Spies, Fischer and Engel, who died for her. [Cheers.] I am for peace on principle. If you see two rival armies approaching each other, and take a poll of the men, you will find that nine-tenths of them are for peace, but they are borne on by irresistible force to the conflict. Before we can have peace in a society like our own, rivers of blood will have to run." [Applause.]

The chairman interrupted Mrs. Parsons and said that her ten minutes had expired. A number of detectives were present, but made no attempt to interfere. After a number of other speeches, some in a decidedly fiery vein, the hall was cleared and a private meeting was held by prominent members of the Socialistic Labor party. When the conference ended, it was announced that arrangements had been made to continue the meetings every Sunday afternoon.

FIGHTING THE TRUST.

A St. Paul House Fights the Whisky Combine.

PHILADELPHIA, December 30.—G. W. Hicks, vice-president and general manager of the St. Paul Distilling Company, who is stopping in this city, said to-night that the Whisky Trust having declared war against the St. Paul company by reducing the price of high wines ten cents per proof gallon, his company would to-morrow make the price of high wines $1.01, which is three cents under the figure named by the Trust. "The St. Paul house," he said, "is owned and operated by men of the highest financial standing and ability in the Northwest. The Trust since its formation has steadily advanced the price of high wines to a fictitious figure, making thereby an enormous profit, a large part of which is set apart to fight the St. Paul and other individual distilleries. The retail dealers know they ought to pay about $1.25 per gallon for their goods no matter how much the Trust raises prices. The dealers will not pay the jobbers' raise in prices, and consequently the jobbers are the ones who are squeezed. We don't want to carry this fight to its farthest limit, but if we must 'go into Africa,' we shall not object. Our aim is to do business on business methods, with a fair return for the capital invested."

GEN. SCHOFIELD A WIDOWER.

Sudden and Unexpected Death of His Respected Consort.

WASHINGTON, December 30.—Mrs. Schofield, wife of Major-General Schofield, died of paralysis of the heart at 7 o'clock this morning. She had been suffering from the effects of a severe cold, which developed into bronchial catarrh a few days ago, but was not thought to be in danger until heart failure supervened only an hour or two before her death. Mrs. Schofield was a daughter of Prof. W. H. C. Bartlett, formerly of the United States Military Academy, and now actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York. The remains will be interred next Wednesday at West Point.

DAKOTA'S HOPES.

Double Statehood Favored—Lying Low For the Prizes.

ST. PAUL, December 30.—A vote has been taken by the Deadwood, Dakota, papers on the question of single or double Statehood, and it is shown that a little more than five-sixths of those answering are in favor of division and admission as two States. The answers received are from various parts of Southern Dakota, and those voting are of all occupations and all political faiths. This vote is believed to be a fair representation of public sentiment on the matter, which daily grows stronger. It is generally believed that division and admission is simply a question of time, and while waiting the outcome with considerable anxiety, the people have hardly begun to look after the prizes to be secured when the two States are introduced. Every move at the National Capitol is watched for eagerly, while a number of Dakota towns are looking after their fences and generally brushing up in the hope that they may become the seat of government. While a few towns are especially anxious to secure that plum, all are united in their efforts to bring settlers into the soon-to-be States.

ELIJAH'S EPISTLE.

Mr. Halford's Outgivings as to Harrison's New Year.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 30.—President-elect and Mrs. Harrison attended church this morning as usual, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McKee. There was a large congregation present, including many strangers. There were a number of callers at the Harrison home this morning, the visitors being strangers who in every instance apologized for calling on Sunday, but they wanted to shake hands with the next President before leaving the city.

On New Year's day Mrs. Harrison will receive at home from the hours of 2 to 8 P. M., assisted by her daughter, Mrs. McKee, and one or two lady friends. General Harrison will be present and will receive with the ladies. At 8 o'clock the ladies will go down to the new Denison and receive for an hour or two with the ladies of the hotel, twelve in number, including Mrs. Judge Martindale, Mrs. Harvey Bates, Mrs. Geo. O. Taylor and others. Each of the twelve ladies has invited five friends to receive with them, so if all are present there will be a grand reception by seventy-two of the leading society ladies of the city. It is not known whether General Harrison will attend, but it is considered probable that he will drop in and pay his respects to the ladies. The hours for the reception at the New Denison are from 8 to 11 o'clock.

Regarding a special cable from London, printed this morning, purporting to give an extract from a letter said to have been written a few days since by E. W. Halford to John C. Reid, formerly of the New York Times, wherein Halford is said to have stated that Hon. John C. New did not desire to go into General Harrison's Cabinet, and that Indiana would probably be represented by General Lew Wallace as Postmaster-General, Halford says that since his appointment as private secretary to General Harrison, he has not written a word regarding the Cabinet or its possible composition, to Reid or any one else.

THE TOURIST SLUGGERS.

"Parson" Davies Talks for Mitchell and Kilrain.

ST. LOUIS, December 30.—The Kilrain-Mitchell party arrived in St. Louis to-day. Kilrain and Mitchell kept closely to their rooms during the day, and "Parson" Davies did the talking for them. The "Parson" stated that a letter had been forwarded to-night to Kilrain's New York backers to the effect that he would meet the Sullivan party in Buffalo, N.Y., on January 7th. The "Parson" stated further that the match will be closed within ten days, or the party who refuses to fight will be shown up. Davies claimed that Kilrain was not only willing but anxious to meet Sullivan, and would agree to anything in reason to bring about a match. As to Jackson, the Australian wonder, he did not see money or glory in meeting with the black. There was nothing to win and everything to lose. The "Parson" thought McAuliffe had been over-estimated. Bill Bradburn defeated Glover in nine rounds. It took McAuliffe forty-nine to beat him. His defeat of Conley was a chance blow. Kilrain and Mitchell think they have been misrepresented, and that adverse comment is the cause of their shabby treatment wherever they go.

Conferring Engineers.

HAMMOND, Ind., December 30.—A delegation of nine locomotive engineers, presumably the committee of nine appointed at the Richmond convention, headed by A. R. Cavener, Chairman, arrived here from Cnicago on the Chicago and Alton train this afternoon, and went immediately to the Morton House, where they held a secret meeting, remaining in session until a late hour this evening. It is supposed that the meeting was in relation to the "Q" strike.

The Week's Clearances.

BOSTON, December 30.—A table compiled from dispatches to the Post from the managers of the leading clearing-houses of the United States, shows that the total gross exchanges for the week ending December 29, 1888, were $927,251,644, an increase of 19.6 per cent, as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Death of a Veteran Statesman.

BALTIMORE, December 30.—Hon. Moses Mordecai died to-day of ossification of the heart; aged 85 years. He was a native of South Carolina, and represented that State in the United States Senate for two terms preceding the rebellion.

LONDON, December 30.—A rebellion has broken out in the Wam country in Upper Burmah. The prisoners in the Showebo jail, in Burmah, recently made an attempt to escape. Seven were killed and three wounded.

Servian Parliament Opened.

BELGRADE, December 20.—The Skuptschina yesterday elected M. Tanschanovics President and M. Popovis Vice-President of that body. The Premier read the royal decree opening the session.

"I want the best suite of rooms on your first floor," said the gentleman registering his name. "That will cost you $20 a day, sir," replied the hotel clerk. "I didn't ask you what it cost, sir; I don't care what it costs." "Guests without baggage are required to pay in advance." "Look at that card, sir," thundered the guest, throwing upon the clerk's desk a card inscribed, "B. Jones, hatter." "Beg pardon, Mr. Jones," said the clerk humbly, as he looked at it. "Boy, show the gentleman room 14." It was the day after election.—[Chicago Tribune.

Tired Tramp (in an exasperated sort of way)—"There, ma'am, there's your three bushels of potatoes I promised to dig if you'd give me some lunch, and I don't care if I never see a potato again. I'm sick of 'em." Woman—"Well, you sit down under the shade o' them gooseberry bushes, and lunch'll be ready in a few minutes." Tramp—"What're you going to have for lunch, marm?" Woman—"We're going to have baked potatoes."—[Epoch

FOREIGN FINDINGS.

A Mexican All-Fool's Day Hoax.

FLASHES FROM THE OLD WORLD.

The Pope's Encyclical Letter—End Of the Jubilee Year—French Communists.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

EL PASO, Texas, December 30.—A newspaper published in Chihuahua, Mexico, on December 28th and received here yesterday, contained thrilling accounts of an alleged Papist uprising in the City of Mexico. The story in brief is the same as told in special dispatches last night. It was seized upon by a correspondent of a New York paper and telegraphed from here. This narrative was purported to have been received by Chihuahua papers by wire from the City of Mexico. Upon investigation the terrible tale turns out to be a huge hoax perpetrated by the Chihuahua newspapers upon their readers. December 28th is All Innocents' day, and is celebrated in Mexico as April 1st has been in the United States and elsewhere. Intelligent Mexicans of this city place no credit whatever in the Chihuahua story. It is hinted that the perpetrators of the canard will be called to account.

AN ALL-FOOLS' DAY JOKE.

WASHINGTON, December 30.—Señor Romero, Mexican Minister, said to an Associated Press reporter to-night that he did not believe any such occurrences had taken place in the City of Mexico as were stated to have happened in a special dispatch from El Paso, Texas, purporting to give an account of a great clerical uprising in the Mexican Capitol, in which over two hundred people, including seventy priests were killed and a great number of priests captured and ordered shot. Señor Romero said if anything of such magnitude had taken place we should have heard of it by cable via Galveston, and not received the first intimation of the affair from El Paso. "Besides," he said, "I have official dispatches by cable up to last Friday evening, and they do not say a word about it. If any such thing had happened they would have said something about it, especially if it had such an ending as is given in the published dispatches." The Minister added that it was the Mexican custom for everyone on the 28th of December to tell the biggest yarns he could think of and then laugh at those who believed them. It was a sort of American April-fool's day, and he thought perhaps the published story had such an origin.

"EXEUNTE JAM ANNO."

Close of the Jubilee Year—The Pope's Encyclical.

ROME, December 30.—Opening with the words "Exeunte jam anno," the Papal Encyclical thanks God for the consolations which the Jubilee rejoicings have brought to the Pope, and His Holiness thanks the Catholic world for its tokens of affection and devotion. Turning to religious matters, the Encyclical complains that the tendency of the age is toward material interests, and that this tendency is strengthened by worldly pride, an evil press and drama, the demoralization of arts and changed education in schools, materialistic and atheistic teaching obscuring the true notions of right. Secularism, Nihilism and Communism, it says, are also outcomes of this addiction to material things.

The Pope attended the Te Deum service in St. Peter's to-day to mark the close of the Jubilee.

IN FAVOR OF TEMPORAL RIGHTS.

BRUSSELS, December 30.—At a large meeting at Liege to-day, at which Bishop Doutreleoux presided, a resolution was adopted in favor of the restoration of the temporal rights to the Pope.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM THE CZAR.

LONDON, December 30.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times says that for the first time in years, the Emperor of Russia has sent a friendly Christmas greeting of the Pope.

A New French Commune.

PARIS, December 30.—Deputies Chuseluset, Ferroul, Pyat and Planteau have formed a revolutionary group, dubbing themselves the Commune. They have issued a bombastic manifesto, declaring that the commune of 1889 will save the nation and republic by a revolution, and that its principal task is to overthrow Boulanger. The manifesto is generally ridiculed, but adds to the Government's difficulty. The manifesto declares that the commune is the sole remedy for Boulangism and Radicalism.

News from Suakim.

LONDON, December 30.—Advices from Suakim say that Arabic translations of accounts published in the London newspapers, prior to December 20th of the plans and operations of the British forces there, have been found in the possession of the enemy.

It is reported that the rebel tribes at Handoub contemplate surrendering to the British.

An escaped Soudanese has offered to bring General Gordon's clothes, sword and papers, which are said to be hidden near Berber.

Bulgarian Legislation.

SOFIA, December 30.—The Sobranje yesterday voted the sums asked for in the budget, granted amnesty to all political refugees, except the actual leaders of plots, since 1886, and extended pardon to Major Popoff, who was convicted of embezzling funds belonging to the war office. Prince Ferdinand closed the session with a speech, in which he thanked the members for the legislation enacted.

The King of Wurtemburg.

LONDON, December 30.—A dispatch from Nice to the Morning Post says: The health of the King of Wurtemburg is again unsatisfactory. His Majesty is indignant at his Minister's persistent opposition to the reunion of his American friends. The Queen of Wurtemburg has arrived here.

No More Big Guns at Present.

BERLIN, December 30.—It is stated that the Government has changed its intention regarding the proposed increase of the artillery strength of the army, and that no credit will be asked for that purpose during the present session of Parliament.

An Hysterical Princess.

BERLIN, December 30.—During the performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream, at the opera last evening, Princess Adelbert, of Bavaria, was seized with a violent attack of hysteria, and had to be removed. She has since become worse, and it is believed she is insane.

BURNED AT HER DOCK.

The Steamer Bristol of the Old Colony Line.

THE INSURANCE COMPANY'S LOSS.

Passengers and Baggage Saved. But Some Have a Close Call.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

NEWPORT, R. I., December 30.—The steamer Bristol, of the Old Colony line, burned at her dock here this morning and is a total loss. She arrived from New York about 2:30 A. M. and landed all her freight and her Fall River passengers. There were left on board only a few Newport passengers and their personal baggage. At 6:30 o'clock, just as the last passenger train was drawing out of the depot, fire was discovered on the steamer and the alarm was at once given from the company's signal on the premises. The fire started near the kitchen and spread with great rapidity, rendering futile all efforts to stop its progress. Three alarms were sounded in rapid succession. Thousands of citizens were also attracted to the spot by the caused by the volume of fire and clouds of smoke which arose from the burning steamer. The fire apparatus on the steamer was brought into use as soon as the flames were discovered, and the crew worked with great vigor to save the boat, but the joiner-work of the state-rooms, saloons and stairways was dry as tinder, and the draughts through the steamer caused a fearful and rapid spread of the flames so that before the city fire department arrived there was a mass of fire sweeping her almost from stem to stern. Some of the passengers still on board did not understand the meaning of the first alarm and were only aroused by the crackling of the flames near by.

BRILLIANT ILLUMINATION

ALL SUCCEEDED IN ESCAPING

but some with only a portion of their clothing, and others by crawling over the railing near the burning timbers. One man with two little children, who occupied a stateroom, was awakened by the sound of the crackling flames near by and barely escaped with his little ones undressed, but with their clothing in their hands. Another young man in which to go to his home in this city. All the personal baggage of the passengers was saved.

When the department arrived the upper decks and centre of the steamer were a mass of flames which gave out such an intense heat as could scarcely be borne at a distance of several hundred feet. This greatly impeded the work of the firemen. The flames had gained such headway that they could only be fought from the wharf-side, while the great heat and flying sparks endangered the buildings on the docks and the steamers lying on either side of the wharf, and constant efforts were required on the part of the firemen to prevent them from igniting. A dozen streams were soon pouring onto the flames, with little apparent effect for over an hour, while others were employed in drenching the dock and buildings.

The insurance on the vessel was $300,000, which covers the loss.

A DRUNKEN RIOT.

White and Black Roisterers Hold High Carnival.

PITTSBURG, Pa., December 30.—The Commercial Gazette's Greensburg, Pa., special says: There was a riot this afternoon at Jeannette. Last night a number of colored men and others employed at Jeannette, came to this place and supplied themselves with whisky, and with the aid of an unlicensed whisky-shop in Jeannette, high carnival was held there during the morning hours. In the afternoon the colored men became quarrelsome. Thirty or forty men gathered in one of the shanties and soon a desperate fight was begun, during which knives and pistols were brought into play. William Galvin, who lives in East Greensburg, was terribly cut, and it is reported to-night that he cannot live. A colored man named Carroll had his arm terribly lacerated by a knife. Others are reported to have received dangerous wounds. A messenger was dispatched for Sheriff Byers, and Deputy Sheriff Alcom and a posse were sent at once to the scene.

IN LIEU OF DIVORCE.

A Separation and Its Shocking Consequences.

ST. LOUIS, December 30.—Information of a shocking tragedy comes from Craighead county, Arkansas. It appears that some days ago the wife of William West, who is somewhat of a desperado, left him and returned to her mother, Mrs. Mary Dairey. West went to see his wife, who refused to receive him, but her mother went out on the porch, taking with her the young child of the couple. West began to abuse Mrs. Dairey, charging her with being the cause of the trouble between his wife and himself. Stephen Dairey was attracted to the porch by the dispute, and ordered West to leave the place. West replied by pulling a pistol and firing two shots, one passing through Mrs. Dairey's hand and the other striking Stephen in the face. Dairey then got a repeating rifle and the two men exchanged shots. West was shot through the heart and died instantly. Dairey was shot in the head, and lived but a few hours.

A Spark from a Pipe.

EVERSON, Pa., December 30.—This evening flames broke out in the Brown row and four houses were destroyed. The fire was caused by the explosion of two kegs of blasting powder. The house in which the explosion occurred was occupied by Poles. They were preparing the powder for their work in the mines to-morrow, when a spark from a pipe ignited the stuff. There was a terrific explosion, and seven of the men were frightfully burned. One, and perhaps three of them, will die.

A Murderous Hebrew.

NEW YORK, December 30.—Joseph Solomon, a Hebrew, who was a jobber in laces and linen goods, shot his wife Dora and killed himself with the same revolver on the sidewalk near his home on East Ninetieth street this evening. The woman was shot twice in the breast and right arm and will probably die.

Seven Graves in the River.

RIPLEY, O., December 30.—This morning after midnight, a short distance above here, Mrs. Turner and her little daughter, a daughter of George C. Loyd, three Brooks brothers and a man whose name is unknown, all colored, attempted to cross the river from Kentucky to Ohio in a small flat-bottomed boat. At some distance from the shore waves from two passing steamboats capsized the craft, and all seven occupants were drowned. Their cries for help were heard by persons on the steamboats, but darkness prevented the rendering of any assistance.

KILLED ON THE BORDER.

A Sensational Shooting Affair at Nogales.

NOGALES, Ariz., December 30.—Hank Frost, an American, was shot and instantly killed about noon to-day in the Crystal Palace saloon, this city, by a Mexican gambler named Tajo. Immediately after the shooting Tajo ran across the line, about a hundred yards, into Sonora. Standing in Center street, which is the line between the two countries, he flourished a six-shooter and said Frost had killed his friend, and that was the reason he killed Frost. Although Tajo is a citizen of the United States, no effort has been made by the Mexican authorities to detain him. Frost formerly had charge of the Government farm at San Carlos Agency, and commanded a company of Yaqui Indian scouts during the campaign against Geronimo. The affair grew out of the killing by Frost, while acting as a special officer about a month ago, of a Mexican gambler named Valle.

Murdered by a Burglar.

HANNIBAL, Mo., December 30.—Amos J. Stilwell, a wealthy merchant, was murdered by a burglar while sleeping in his home this morning. The weapon used was an ax, which, with Stilwell's pocket-book and $35 was found in an alley in the rear of the house. There is no clue to the murderer.

Burning Tobacco.

NEW YORK, December 30.—Fire to-night on board the steamer Mexico, which recently arrived from Havana, did about $3,000 damages. There was considerable excitement for awhile, and ten firemen were temporarily overcome by the fumes of burning tobacco, the main cargo of the steamer.

He Found the Leak.

PITTSBURG, December 30.—This afternoon John Cochran, a small boy, went into a sewer with a lighted match to hunt for a natural gas leak. An explosion followed, which fatally burned him.

WARM NIGHT GARMENTS.

Thin Bed Gowns Most Injudicious During Winter Weather.

When the air is cold and the weather inclement it is the general custom to wear garments of extra thickness and warmth, and to sit around roaring fires. But on going to bed, what takes place? In ninety-nine cases out of 100 people pass from the warm living rooms into chilly bedrooms. As if the sudden change from extreme heat—for there can be little doubt that with fires, gas and insufficient ventilation people are in the habit of breathing an atmosphere the temperature of which is considerably higher than it should hygienically be—to excessive cold is not sufficiently absurd, they proceed to divest themselves of their several warm garments to garb themselves in thin linen nightshirts, and to consign their heated bodies to the cooling influence of unsympathetic sheets! Conventionality has habituated one to the custom; but a really serious contemplation of it cannot fail to make the utter absurdity of the custom clearly apparent.

The Chinese, from whom so many useful lessons have been learned by more civilized nations, can give us a wrinkle on this subject. John Chinaman sleeps in the same kind of clothes as he wears in the daytime, the easy and flowing garments to which he is addicted allowing of this without inconvenience. Western nations are not favored in the latter respect; but still it would be quite possible to replace the airy nightshirt at present in vogue by some garment which, as regards warmth, was equivalent to the several distinct articles of clothing constituting the working dress worn by day. Dwellers in foreign countries invariably sleep in flannel garments, and the backwoodman wraps himself in a stout woolen blanket and defies the elements. They are sensible. The human frame should, undoubtedly be clothed in woolen garments, for wool is a bad conductor of heat. Enveloped in flannel the body maintains a normal temperature, which is of the greatest importance. No sooner does the temperature fall than the action of the various functions becomes impaired; the nerves get out of gear, and the whole system suffers disorganization.—[Health.

How He Secured a Pass.

When Agnes Booth was here as Mrs. Schoeffel, her husband was on the door upstairs at McVicker's one night when a young man presented himself and asked that the privileges of the house be extended by reason of the young man's position as correspondent of some Eastern newspaper. Mr. Schoeffel said he could not recognize the young man to that extent.

"I desire to know who you are, sir," said the correspondent. "I'll attend to you in my paper."

"My name is Schoeffel, sir; John B. Schoeffel. You can have my name and be —— to you, sir."

"I didn't hear the name aright," said the young man.

"Schoeffel, sir; J-o-h-n, John, Schoeffel."

"Write it for me; I want to get it right," thundered the correspondent.

Mr. Schoeffel wrote the name on a card and almost flung it in the correspondent's face.

That night when the "count up" was going on Mr. Schoeffel found his autograph among the tickets and over it was written "pass two." The correspondent had utilized the autograph at the box-office. Mr. Schoeffel is now the partner of Henry Abbey.—[Chicago Times.

An Engineer Who Saluted His Wife's Grave with a Whistle.

During the life of jovial Engineer Bronson's first wife, says a Bridgeport, Conn., story-teller, it was his custom, when dashing into the town with his engine, to blow a long flourish on the whistle as a signal to his wife that his run was completed and he was all right.

Upon her deathbed Mrs. Bronson made him promise that as long as he remained an engineer on the road he would remember the grass plot in the cemetery where she was to be laid, and blow the whistle whenever he passed.

A short time ago Engineer Bronson married his second wife. He has faithfully kept his promise to the dead, and blown long, dismal blasts whenever passing the cemetery, afterward saluting the quick by joyful tootings as he rushed into town, so that the living wife might prepare in season the evening meal.

The other day, for the first time, the engineer ran by the cemetery forgetful of his promise.

During the night, in fitful dreams, his forgotten promise must have occurred to him. He arose, and mounting a switch engine, backed the machine over to the cemetery, blowing screeches upon the whistle. After thus fulfilling his promise he returned to bed unconscious of what he had done.

Bay City Burglars Make a Rich Haul.

THEIR VICTIM CHLOROFORMED.

Alfred Stern's Wedding—An Erring Woman's Suicide—Other Items.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—Mrs. Samuel L. Saunders, living on Fifth Avenue, reports that while lying on her bed to-day she was chloroformed by three men, and while one held a pistol at her head the others ransacked the house, securing a thousand dollars worth of jewelry, three thousand dollars in checks and a thousand dollars in gold.

Mrs. Saunders says at about 3 o'clock this morning she was awakened by a slight tap on her face, and when she turned towards the door, saw some men standing beside her bed, one of them holding a lighted candle. One of them placed a handkerchief, saturated with chloroform over her mouth, at the same time bidding her keep quiet or else he would kill her. She had the presence of mind to pull the blankets over her mouth so as not to inhale all the fumes of the anæsthetic, and was thus but partially placed under its influence. One of the robbers then held a pistol to her head while his companions hurriedly produced some skeleton keys and opened two trunks in her room, in which all her valuables were kept.

After they had thoroughly searched every corner and turned the contents of the bureau drawers upon the floor, two of the robbers went into a barroom adjoining, and after helping themselves to all the liquors and cigars which they could conveniently carry, called to their companion who was left watching Mrs. Saunders, and departed as silently as they came.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

Sad News for a Mother and Sister at Compton.

SALEM, Ore., December 30.—Dora Blake, a woman of the town, died this morning from the effects of an overdose of morphine, which she took last evening with suicidal intent. She came here from Seattle about four months ago. She had been despondent over money matters and over the news that her aged mother was dying. Last night she drank about half a bottle of Jamaica ginger and then took thirty grains of morphine. The doctors worked with her all night to counteract the effects of the poison, but without avail. She was a native of San Francisco and had been married. Her true name was Mrs. Laura A. Thompson. Her sister, Mrs. Kingbury, and her mother, name unknown, live at Compton, Los Angeles county. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

HE TURNED ON THE HOSE.

A Sheriff's Way of Settling a Railroad War.

SEATTLE, W. T., December 30.—Trouble arose yesterday between the Columbia and Puget Sound shore roads regarding the ownership of a strip of road on the tide flats. To-day the latter obstructed the joint track of the two roads, to prevent the passage of the trains of the former, by placing twenty bars thereon. The Sheriff and a large force of men started to remove the bars, and a hundred men of the opposing side advanced to prevent them. A serious fracas was imminent, when the Sheriff picked up a hydrant hose and drenched the attacking force. They then desisted, and an armistice between the roads was afterwards declared.

Soon after the steamer was built she was purchased by the Pacific Improvement Company, of this city, which intends to use her as a coaster between this city and Puget Sound ports.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., December 30.—The successful bidder for the irrigation bonds of the Brown's Valley District, in Yuba county, is A. L. House, of the Pacific Bank, San Francisco, who represents a syndicate. His bid was ninety cents on the dollar. It is expected that the water will be brought down in time for use next summer. The bonds issued amount to $110,000.

CONSUMPTION,

CATARRH,

Bronchitis and Asthma,

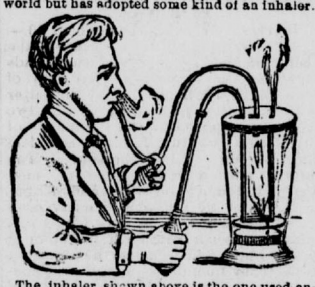
Treated successfully by

DRS DAVIS & BLAKESLEE

45½ North Spring Street,

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Inhalation, combined with constitutional medication, has superceded all others in the treatment of throat and lung diseases, and there is scarcely a throat specialist in the civilized world but has adopted some kind of an inhaler.



The inhaler shown above is the one used entirely by us, after trying every other kind, and by this means our well-known success during the last four years has lately been increased to a large extent.

CASES ON FILE.

Below we will give the symptoms of a few cases and the result of the treatment. As some of these persons object to our using their names in the public print, we will suppress them, but will gladly make them known to those calling at offices.

Case No. 986—R. N., aged 43, a commercial traveler, stated that he had been subject to cough every winter for twelve years. His work was against him, and he was a good deal exposed to wet and cold. His cough used to trouble him badly only in the winter, but year by year it seemed to be coming on earlier, and now he was hardly ever free from it. It came on in fits, which shook him to pieces, and it was always very bad the first thing in the morning, often making him retch and vomit. There was a great deal of phlegm, thick and yellow, which was difficult to get up unless he could get some hot tea, or something to loosen it. The shortness of breath was worse than all, for it prevented him from going about, and interfered with his business. He had never spat any blood worth speaking of, but there were at times streaks after a severe fit of coughing. He became no thinner, generally loosing a little in the winter and picking up in the summer. He had had a great deal of treatment without relief. November 1st, 1887, he was given an inhaler, with medicines, and went into the country for three days, at the end of which time he reported the cough easier, the phlegm lighter in color and not so thick, and the breathing decidedly better. Treatment continued. November 10th the patient wrote to say that he was better than he had been for years, and was almost able to do without medicine. Jan. 6th, reported that he had not been using medicine for a month, and was entirely well.

Case No. 1 166—J. P. R., aged 65 years, unmarried. Was troubled for ten years with post-nasal catarrh. The mucous would drop back into the throat and frequently be swallowed. Has been troubled with a distressing headache, from which he has never been free for almost a year. For the same length of time there has been great distress after eating, and bloating of the stomach and bowels. The bowels are constipated. The stomach will bear nothing but a little cracker. He is also troubled with shortness of breath and shifting pains over the liver, stomach and chest. Has been treating a year with different physicians without relief. January 2d, 1888, prescribed medical inhalation for the throat and the proper constitutional remedies for the stomach, and recommended a diet. February 16th, 1888, Mr. R. reports that his headache has been entirely gone for two weeks, he can eat anything without distressing himself, and examination shows his throat to be entirely well.

Case No. 1,046—Mr. G M. Came into office December 6th, 1887, during a severe attack of asthma. Had to be half carried up the stairs. Took cold night before. Has been troubled with asthma for eight years. Would never get over the succession of attacks after taking cold for two weeks or more. Has used everything he can hear tell of, and smoked everything, from mullen leaves to arsenic. Mr. M. took inhalation in office, and in half an hour left breathing as freely as any one. Reported next day that he had had no difficulty in breathing after taking treatment. During the following six months Mr. M. took inhaler occasionally whenever he would feel an attack coming on, but during the past six months has taken no treatment what ever, and has been entirely free from the disease.

Many more cases could be mentioned, but the above, we hope, is sufficient to convince any fair-minded person of the superiority of this method.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Persons at a distance can send for a list of questions and be treated as successfully at home. Office hours—10 A. M. to 6 P. M. and 7 to 8 P. M.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by R. W. Ellis & Co. Druggists, 27 S. A SPLENDID BUSINESS.

What the Southern Pacific Has Done During 1888.

The year just closing has been one of the most successful in the history of the Southern Pacific system. Mainly owing to the increase of the California traffic it has made an advance of about thirty per cent. on its business for the preceding year and has built a number of lines which in the future will materially swell its already regal revenue. The enlargement of traffic is caused by the vast increase of population which in a steady stream of settlement has been pouring into the golden State in untold numbers during the past twelve months. Lumber for their residences, agricultural implements with which to till the land, household furniture, and later on the business which increasing wealth demanded, have caused a great demand on the company's resources, and at one time the strain was so great that it was only with skilful management an absolute blockade was prevented. As it was it caused a dearth of freight cars all over the Western country, and one good result of this has been the employment of thousands of men to meet the wants of the occasion, new cars having been turned out as fast as money, labor and material could produce them. The best evidence of the increase of business can be obtained from the following figures just issued from the Southern Pacific headquarters at San Francisco, and which show the gross business for the eleven months of 1888 ending November 30:

	Earnings.	Operating Expenses.
Pacific system	$32 170,000	$20,774,000
Atlantic system	10,399 000	7,227,000
Totals	$42,569,000	$28,000,000

This leaves a net balance for the eleven months of $14,568,000, and if the month of December keeps up the average, and there is no reason why it should not, the total receipts will show $47,500,000 and the net profits nearly $16,000,000. A comparison with 1887 is interesting, the figures given being for the twelve months of that year:

	Earnings.	Operating Expenses.
Pacific System	$25,132,000	$13,730,000
Atlantic System	9,165,000	6,588,000
Totals	$34,297,000	$20,318,000
A balance of		$13,979,000.

THE WOLFSKILL DEPOT.

The Grand Dedication Ball to Occur To-Night.

To-night the Wolfskill depot will be opened with a grand dedication ball given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Railroad Brakemen. The boys, proud of the honor of being the first to invite the public into the new building, have been working late and early to make the affair a success, and it undoubtedly will be. The station is gaily decorated, and bears the emblems of the railroad fraternities, great taste being shown in decorating the rooms where the dancing will take place. Two bands of music have been engaged, and the programme of the evening has been gotten up in a faultless manner. The festivities will commence at 7 P. M with a performance by a band of sixteen pieces at the San Fernando street depot, from which place a special train will leave for the Wolfskill depot, arriving there at 8 sharp. Literary exercises will then take place, including speeches by Mayor Bryson, Hon. E. F. Spence, Col. Hewitt and others, and at 8:45 the grand march will take place in the Arcade, which is capable of holding 10,000 people. Dancing will follow, lasting until midnight, when a special train will convey the merrymakers to the Depot Hotel, where the New Year will be welcomed by one of Landlord Reinhardt's famous repasts. At 1:10 the train will convey the festive throng back to the Wolfskill depot, and the dancing will be continued until every one is satisfied.

Distinguished Travelers.

General Superintendent J. A. Fillmore and Auditor Jerald, of the Southern Pacific, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, of New York, arrived in a special train at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. They only stopped a couple of hours and then went on East. Messrs. Fillmore and Jerald will only proceed as far as El Paso, at which point they will turn and be back in this city on their homeward journey on Wednesday night or Thursday morning. The train consists of an officers' car and the Pullman special, "Chenook."

Mrs. R. H. Pratt and daughters and Colonel and Mrs. Carr, traveling in the special car "Carmello," passed a couple of hours yesterday at the San Fernando street depot while waiting to proceed to Santa Barbara. They received a number of their friends in this city during their stay.

The Coquelin-Hading French Comedy Company, which has just closed a brilliant engagement at San Francisco, will pass through the city to-morrow night in a special Pullman attached to No. 19. They are en route to El Paso.

A Christmas Gift.

"Smoke with H. A. Durand, Jr.," At home Xmas 1888," was the legend inscribed on the lid of a box of choice Havanas which a HERALD man was invited to sample when he dropped into the office of District Superintendent Elwood, of the Pullman Company, yesterday afternoon. Mr. H. A. Durand, Sr., the receiving cashier of the establishment, came in a moment or two later with a beaming smile on his face, but such a dignified mien that it was easy to see that he bore his new paternal honors proudly.

Colonel Fairfax, under sentence of death.....A. Montegriffo
Chorus of Yeomen of the Guard, gentlemen, citizens, etc. Scene—Tower Green, London. Period—Sixteenth Century.

The entire action takes place in the courtyard of the Tower of London. The scene is effective, the tower being built with such apparent massiveness that there is room in it for a flagstaff and the colors of the land.

The argument is thus stated: "Colonel Fairfax" is condemned to death for sorcery; he has twice saved the life of "Phœbe's" father in battle, and both she and her father want to save his neck, but how? An opportunity arises through the brother of "Phœbe," who has just been appointed a Yeoman of the Guard for some valorous deed on the field of battle, and who is persuaded to let the condemned man take his place in the corps of the Yeomen of the Guard. "Fairfax" is brought in guarded to the Lieutenant of the Tower, looking bold and brave and declares his readiness to die. Before he goes back to prison he asks a boon of the Lieutenant; that as he has been condemned to death for sorcery, through the machinations of a kinsman of his, who will succeed to his estate provided he dies unmarried, he asks the Lieutenant to find a wife for him whom he should marry before he is put to death; this the Lieutenant promises to do. "Elsie Maynard" comes along with "Jack Point," and the Lieutenant induces her, for the consideration of 100 crowns, to marry "Fairfax," she being blindfolded during the ceremony; this she agrees to do, provided she is allowed to depart the instant the ceremony is at an end. "Elsie" marries without seeing him, and the problem arises how to convey the Yeoman suit to "Fairfax" in his cell and to let him escape therefrom, as the keys are in the custody of "Wilfred," who is in love with "Phoebe." "Phoebe" undertakes to manage this and purloins the keys, frees "Fairfax" and returns them to their proper place without "Wilfred" being aware of their loss. "Fairfax" dresses in the uniform of the Yeomen of the Guard, gets out and takes his place among the yeomen. The head executioner comes on to behead the prisoner, but as he has escaped the curtain on the first act descends, with the grim executioner, ax in hand, waiting at the block for his victim.

In the second act the curtain rises where the civilians and "Dame Carruthers" reproach the wardens for allowing the prisoner to escape. "Point" meets "Wilfred," and upon his promising to discharge his arquebusses at night, and stating that he has killed "Fairfax" while endeavoring to escape, he will make him, "Wilfred," a jester. The shot is heard, and "Wilfred" and "Point" inform the Governor that "Wilfred" has shot the prisoner "Fairfax" through the head, and that he is very, very dead. "Dame Carruthers" then enters and informs "Meryll," in the presence of "Fairfax," that from what "Elsie" has said in her sleep, she is certain that "Fairfax" is the man to whom she is wedded. "Fairfax," to test her principles, pretends to make violent love to "Elsie" in the interest of "Point," and finally falls in love with her himself. "Leonard" soon after arrives with a long-delayed pardon, maliciously kept back by "Fairfax's" kinsman, who designed that it should arrive after the Colonel's death. "Fairfax" arrives and claims "Elsie" as his wife. "Phoebe" consents to marry "Wilfred," nd "Dame Carruthers succeeds" in capturing the Sergeant.

The music which Sir Arthur Sullivan has written for The Yeoman of the Guard is, perhaps, the most ambitious work of the kind yet attempted by the most English composer of the day. The serious vein marked out in Ruddygore is followed out more severely than in that first departure from the purely lyric to the semi-dramatic in music; but it must be admitted that the vein is not that in which Sir Arthur will find his most valuable nuggets.

Gilbert's humor is not sufficiently integral with the action to be as diverting as the lines really are in the reading. It is as if he had gathered together some happy thoughts from his notebook. There is some drollery in "Jack Point's" description of his avocation as a jester. His jests, he affirms, "are most carefully selected, and anything objectionable is expunged." He relates his failure to please the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury with a merry saying of a personal nature, for which he had to sit in the stocks.

The jester has occasion to strike a bargain with "Wilfred, the Head Jailer of the Tower and Assistant Tormenter," whereby he shall teach him all his "original songs and ingenious paradoxes and reveal the source" where he got them. The two dance off with the big tome between them. Jack had before thus declared:

If you wish to succeed as a jester you'll need
To consider each person's auricular;
What is all right for B would quite scandalize C
(For C is so very particular);
And D may be dull, and E's very thick skull
Is as empty of brains as a ladle;
While F is F sharp, and will cry with a carp,
That he's known your best joke from the cradle!
When your humor they flout,
You can't let yourself go;
And it does put you out
When a person says "Oh,
I have known that old joke from my cradle!"

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

This week, McFadden & Apple's double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company at the Los Angeles Theater. McFadden's "Uncle Tom" is the successor of Jay Rial's in its success. It travels with a big company; two "Marks"—father and son; two "Topsies;" twenty-five plantation singers, trick donkies, trained bloodhounds, etc., and its own scenery and stage appointments.

The good old play, one of the most successful ever on the boards, has strong presentation. The incidents are well worked up, and their conclusions are presented in such a crisp and effective manner that the theater where this company appears resounds with applause of its pleased audience as the climaxes of the piece come round.

HOTELS OF LOS ANGELES.

What the Hotel Men Think of Them.

Two hotel men met in Los Angeles not long ago, one from Bermuda, the other from Florida, and the following conversation was overheard between them:

How is this, you are in California at this time of the year, when one would suppose Bermuda would be filling up with tourists?"

"Oh, I had heard of Los Angeles as a winter resort, and I got some one to take my place for a time and thought I would see what it looked like. But how is it you are here when this is the beginning of your season in Florida?"

"Yellow fever, you know, shuts us out for the present. I took a trip here while waiting for danger to be over. I shall get there about the first of January to open up."

"How do you like this country and what do you think of the situation for the hotel business here as compared with Bermuda?"

"My opinion of the hotels here at present is not favorable as related to the drawing of that class of tourists who spend their winters abroad and for those who spend their money lavishly. I believe here is a good place for some bang up good hotels. I am charmed with the city and its surroundings. Yes, sir, you can bet your last dollar this is going to be a town some day." "That is just my opinion," said Florida. "This country is so much ahead of Florida in almost every respect that when she wakes up to know what she lacks is large, fine hotels and builds them on a scale equal to ours she will distance us by a long shot. People from all over the world will—must—flock here to enjoy this glorious climate and this magnificent scenery. Why, look at these grand old mountains and these lovely fields as compared to our swamps and monotonous plains and pine forests." "I tell you, sir," said Bermuda, "I wish my hotel was here. I could fill it a dozen times over with people who never saw anything like this. We have a pretty island over there, but it's awfully away by itself, and sort of hum-drum living to stay there. But here there seems to be life and vim in every human being, in every living thing, even in the trees, the flowers and the very grass beneath your feet. Yes, sir; I like this country, and I can see a great future for it. And of all places this side the Atlantic, Los Angeles is the city for me and my business. I'm coming here as soon as practicable."

"So am I," said Florida. "I wish my hotel was here to-day, I should not care to go back. But isn't it a strange thing they have no large hotels here? I am surprised to find a country so charming and a city booming along at such a rapid rate in other lines of business as Los Angeles is to see no large hotels here. Why, we have dozens of hotels in Florida, any two of which would swallow all they have in this city of nearly a hundred thousand people. And yet our large hotels are making money. Some of them made enough last winter to keep their doors closed this winter. Yes, I think as you do, that the future of Los Angeles is bright, and I tell you my honest opinion is, the day is not far distant, when you will see this the great winter resort of our continent. Florida is good in some respects. It is near the great cities. We have some delicious oranges and as good hotels as the world can boast of, but it is tame compared to California as a State—tame, tame, tame."

A telegram for the man from Bermuda ended this, to a Californian, interesting conversation, and the two gentlemen of large hotel experience parted, agreeing to meet again in Los Angeles another season to further discuss the building of a fine hotel in or near the city. This is the kind of men needed here to-day. Growing fruit and garden truck is all right. Industrious farmers with pluck and energy should be encouraged. Manufactories must and will come, but when they do, and every branch of industry is developed to its full extent, no one branch, and we doubt if all combined, will bring as great a revenue to the city of Los Angeles as the tourist travel.

It should be said the world over, Los Angeles beats this continent if not the world in fine hotels. If such could be said, and we believe the day will come when it shall be, who can estimate the extent to which the city would grow, or describe with pen the charm of its delightful surroundings, embellished by wealth and art. A TOURIST.

The Dime Museum.

The holiday season has fully tested the capacity of this favorite resort, which is crowded from morning till night with interested visitors. The bill presented is an exceptionally strong one, embracing a host of novelties. There are trained donkeys, elephants, ventriloquism, fire-eating, magic, character artists, etc., in the theater, and the museum is replete with interesting features.

Pullman Passengers.

The following Pullman passengers left yesterday for San Francisco and the East:

A. Peabody, T. G. Woolsey, G. Gibbons, R. White, C. B. Lauvrie, Mrs. Eaton, Dr. Ryan, Mr. Lion, Mrs. T. Day.

New Year's Calls.

To-morrow morning the HERALD will publish a list of those who receive New Year's callers. Those who will keep open houses are requested to leave their names and addresses at the business office, which will remain open until midnight.

Manual Training in New York.

If the question of manual training in the city schools be involved in the selection of the six Commissioners of Education to be appointed this month, it is to be hoped that the active friends of this much-needed reform will be given a fair representation in the board.

That there is a prejudice against this innovation among the directors and workers of the old system should not be permitted to deprive the children and the community of the benefits of manual training. The good results effected in the small experiments already made are enough to warrant—nay, to demand—an extension of the system.

Practical instruction in the use of the hand, the eye and the judgment of the pupil should be an external part of every educational scheme for children. It puts "the whole boy and the whole girl to school," instead of that part of them represented by the purely intellectual faculties. The primary schools should teach something that is practically useful, in addition to facts and formulas. Give the children of the poor a chance to make the most of themselves.—[New York World.
